Dear parents and carers of class six,

Welcome back, I hope you all had a relaxing break. We are looking forward to another jam-packed half term!

By now, the children should know their weekly routines; it is important that they remember to bring the correct equipment to school on the correct day.

Friday – the children should come to school wearing PE kit.

Please ensure that your child's uniforms, PE kit, and bags are clearly labelled with their name and class to ensure that they can be easily found if they are misplaced. We have had a few cases of lost jumpers, so pleasure make sure they have the children's names on them.
Compulsory homework is assigned via the Google Classroom every Thursday with tasks linked to the maths learning in class and spellings. This will need to submitted online by Tuesday morning. At the end of year six, the children are required to sit a spelling test as part of their English SAT examination. Homework spellings are therefore extremely important as they will ensure that the children are practising the key spelling rules and patterns, which they may be tested on.
Children in year six are expected to read every day and record their progress in their reading record, which should be brought into school every day. Please support your child to continue to do this, as the benefits will be huge, not only in their reading ability but their writing too!

In class this half term, our topic is Extreme Earth - this will see us exploring and investigating natural disasters that occur around the world. For more information on what we will be learning about, please see the topic web overleaf.

Key dates:
Tuesday 17th November and Tuesday 8th December – Year 6 will be partaking in outdoor learning sessions in our nature garden, please feel free to send your child in with old shoes or wellington boots.

Kind regards,
The Year 6 Team
Miss Mcleish, Mr Cutts and Miss Douch
